Carseland Ladies' Aid Entertained by Arrowwood Ladies' Guild

The Blind Creek Ladies' Aid of the Carseland United Church were guests of the Ladies' Guild of the Arrowwood United Church on Thursday, October 8th, at the home of Mrs. M. Henry. Mrs. M. H. Ward presided during the business session of the Guild in the absence of the President, Mrs. J. Mackie.

Reports of the various bazaar committees were encouraging. Mrs. T. S. Board was appointed convener of the Annual Thanksgiving Donation to the pastor. At the close of the business session a clever contest, arranged by the hostess, was enjoyed. Mrs. Russel Fonger, Mrs. E. B. Doten and Mrs. Forest Kemper assisted the hostess in the serving of a delicious lunch.

Value of Milk as a Food

Scientific research finds another good reason for the liberal use of milk, especially in the diet of the growing child, and that is in its capacity as a bone builder. The human body contains more calcium than it does any other mineral, and the best and cheapest source of supply is milk. Dietetic experts assert that a quart of milk daily ensures the growing child of the best storage of calcium for the manufacture of bones and teeth. It is equivalent in calcium to 10 large oranges, 10 large helpings of cauliflower, 24 helpings of carrots, 32 eggs, or 20 pounds of beef.

There are two sides to every question—your side and the wrong side.

Altar Society Meet at Home of Mrs. C. Journey

The Altar Society of the Arrowwood Catholic Ladies' met at the home of Mrs. Clyde Journey on Tuesday, Oct. 13th. Eight members and three visitors were present. Rev. Father Moreau of Gleichen was also present. Mrs. Journey served a delicious lunch.

Order of Service Change at United Church

A new order of worship has been introduced in the combined School and Worship Service in the United Church. The change was primarily made so that the children might be in for the worship story. Now the classes assemble for study after a brief opening service and the regular worship period of prayer, praise and responsive reading follows. At the close of this period the children withdraw and the others remain for the sermon. This order was used for the first time last Sunday at the Thanksgiving Service.

The school was very prettily decorated with fruit, grains and vegetables and the sermon was "Finding God in Common Places." Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert wish to express their gratitude to the many friends who contributed so generously to the manse larder.

Harvest Supper and Home Cooking Sale

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Brethren Church, will hold a Harvest Supper and home cooking sale in Phillips' Hall on Saturday, October 17th. Sale opens at 4 o'clock. Supper 5.30 to 8 p.m. Price, adults, 40c; children 25c.

Road to Calgary Being Changed

Work of widening the Macleod trail north of Okotoks has been commenced, and a road camp has been established a mile north of Okotoks. Surface of the trail is to be 24 feet wide and fences on the east side of the trail are being torn down to widen to widen the road allowance by 33 feet. The new road will leave the present Macleod trail four miles north of Okotoks and will join the old trail again near Midnapore, thus removing a number of dangerous curves.

The Turner Valley—Midnapore—Calgary road is nearly completed and over half of the gravelling has been completed, with sharp corners eliminated.

School of Technology

Over a million dollars is invested in the Provincial Institute of Technology and art in Calgary, which provides workshops and equipment to equal anything in the Dominion. This school offers young Albertans a variety of utilitarian values. The Art Department, under A. O. Leighton, R. B. A., makes available an art instructional service for the first time in the history of the province. Another new feature is a course in manual training for young men with normal training.

Let the howlers, howl and the growlers, growl, and the prowlers, prowl and the ge-gaws go. Behind the night there is plenty of light and things are alright and I know it.

Local and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Saunders were visitors to Blackie over Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Hepburn has returned to Arrowwood after a few months' visit with friends.

Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Liesemer were visitors to Carstairs over Thanksgiving.

BORN — To Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Groat of Queenstown on Wednesday, Oct. 14th, a son.

The many friends of Mrs. C. Ferguson of Queenstown will be glad to learn that she is recovering from her recent serious illness.

We are sorry to hear of the sudden illness of Mrs. H. Watwood of Shouldice who recently underwent an operation in Calgary.

Harold Miller, who has been working for R. Fonger most of the summer left Thursday for Illinois.

Annual Thanksgiving Donation for Pastor

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild, the Annual Harvest Thanksgiving donation for the Pastor of the United Church is being arranged. It was presented to Rev. V. M. Gilbert, in part, last Sunday but the committee under the leadership of Mrs. T. S. Board, are still receiving donations and will be glad to hear from as many as possible. Any one wishing to donate a bushel or two of wheat to be milled into flour for the same purpose, leave it with Mr. Robt Moir, at the Alberta Pacific elevator.

Regular Meeting of Arrowwood Council

The Council of Arrowwood held their regular monthly meeting in the village office, in the Ingraham Block, on Wednesday, October 7th. Councillors Beagle and Lewendon and the Secretary being present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and on motion by Councillors Beagle and Lewendon, were adopted as read.

A letter from the Old Age Pension Department was read, notifying the Village that Mrs. E. Royer had been granted the Old Age Pension, and also notifying the Village to be prepared to pay the said department ten per cent of the pension granted at the end of the year.

The accounts of Revelstoke Sawmill Co., L. F. Christenson & Co., Geo. Duncan, R. J. Duncan, L. F. Michael and T. S. Board, were approved by the Council.

A date for nomination for one councillor will be set for some time early in November, to complete the term of A. J. Troy who has moved away from Arrowwood.

A doctor says that girls would be prettier if they ate more onions and less candy. But then what would be the use of being pretty?

School Notes

The second meeting of the High School Literary Society was held Friday afternoon with Ruby Ward, the president, in the chair.

The usual business was discussed and committees were elected to take care of the program and lunch at the Annual Halloween Party to be held October 30. It was also decided that the former students of the Arrowwood High School be invited to the party.

After the business meeting a very delightful program was presented. Special mention must be made of the duet by Victoria Barron and Florence Holland and of the vocal solo by Marjorie Leonard.

The program consisted of:

1. Duet, Florence Holland and Victoria Barron.
2. Recitation, Edna Beagle.
3. Mouth Organ Solo, Donald Moss.
4. Recitation, Irwin Scott.
5. Vocal Solo, Marjorie Leonard
6. High School Paper, Malcolm Taylor and Boynton Chrestenson.

Mr. Johnston: An abstract noun is something we can think of but can't touch. Give me an example.

Floyd: A red-hot poker, sir.

Grades 3 and 4 have organized a Literary Society. The following officers were elected: President—Grace Board.

Vice Pres.—Shirley Taylor. Secretary—Betty Rhea Jones. Treasurer—Doris Kerr.

The first program will be put on by Grade 4 on Friday, October 30.

Their teacher is Miss I. MacLeod.

Boynton Chrestenson is a very enthusiastic Latin Scholar. We asked him what he had for dinner the other day. He replied, "Ab ovo usque ad mala" which, in plain English means "from soup to nuts".

Jack Clark and Harold Eshom are two boys who are rather inclined to fight.

"You're afraid to fight" said Harold one day.

"I am not" retorted Jack "but if I fight, my father will strap me."

"But how will he know?"

"He'll see the doctor going to your house."

Irene Kelly had the misfortune to sprain her wrist very badly last Tuesday while playing basketball.

An epidemic of colds seems to be quite prevalent in the school this week.

The boys and girls in Grade 7 and 8 are quite anxious to accept challenges from any of the neighboring schools for basketball.

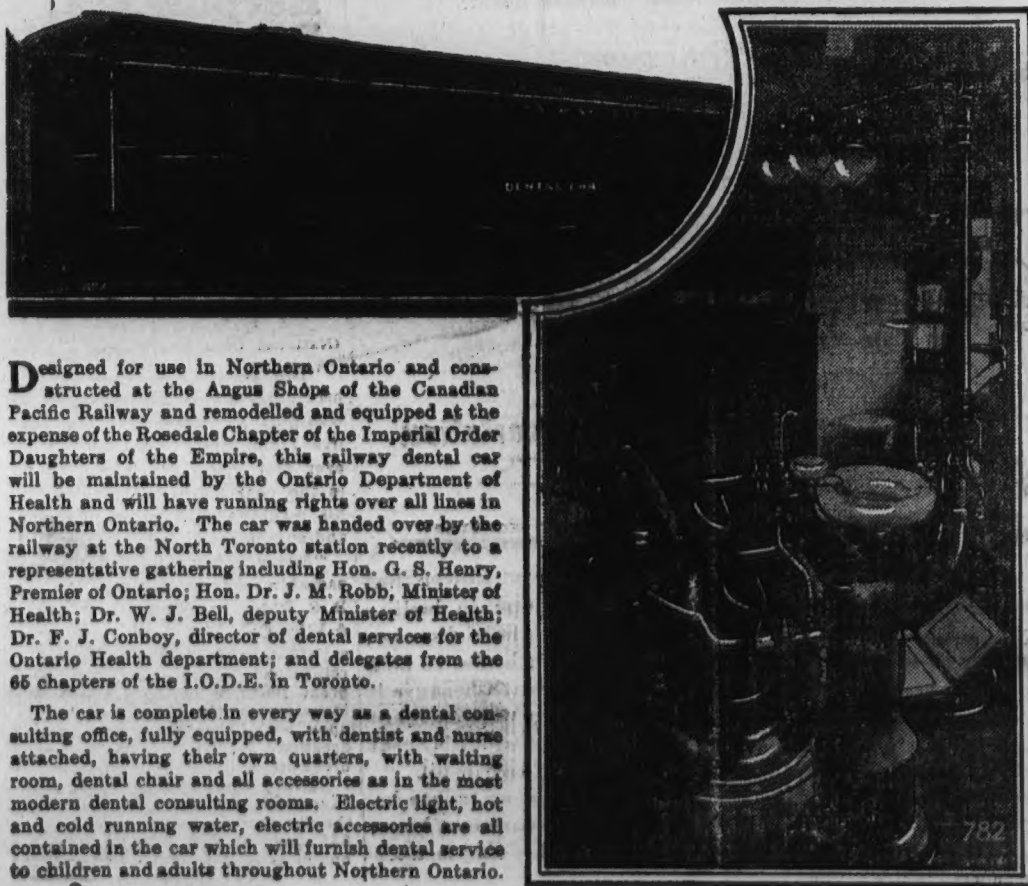

"Now Herman," said Mr. McCullough, "how much is seven times eight?"

"Fifty-six," replied Herman.

"That's pretty good," remarked Mr. McCullough.

"Pretty good!" exclaimed Herman, "Hang it all, sir, its perfect."

Dental Services to Northern Outposts

Designed for use in Northern Ontario and constructed at the Angus Shops of the Canadian Pacific Railway and remodelled and equipped at the expense of the Rosedale Chapter of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, this railway dental car will be maintained by the Ontario Department of Health and will have running rights over all lines in Northern Ontario. The car was handed over by the railway at the North Toronto station recently to a representative gathering including Hon. G. S. Henry, Premier of Ontario; Hon. Dr. J. M. Robb, Minister of Health; Dr. W. J. Bell, deputy Minister of Health; Dr. F. J. Conboy, director of dental services for the Ontario Health department; and delegates from the 65 chapters of the I.O.D.E. in Toronto.

The car is complete in every way as a dental consulting office, fully equipped, with dentist and nurse attached, having their own quarters, with waiting room, dental chair and all accessories as in the most modern dental consulting rooms. Electric light, hot and cold running water, electric accessories are all contained in the car which will furnish dental service to children and adults throughout Northern Ontario.

Quo Doctrina?

In last week's issue we suggested athletics as a factor in education. Carrying this idea further we would like to discuss the relation of dramatics and music to manhood.

Being able to work with others implies the quality of being likeable and of making oneself wanted. And in the ordinary community life who is more in demand than the one who can sing or play or act? To acquire some accomplishment creates character values. The mastery of any art requires a certain amount of self-mastery. And when we add to accomplishment the ability the via media where one does not have to be coaxed nor yet thrusts himself upon others but serves simply because he pleases others, this is the achievement par excellence.

We recall one mother who continued her work as a teacher of music. She used to say that she looked forward to a time when people would as readily sit down to the piano and express themselves in sound as readily as we now express ourselves in words. And the more we think about it we are prone to ask ourselves, Why not?

And team work finds no better expression than in drama, choral society, orchestra or band. The identity of the individual is completely lost and yet to drop out just one upsets the balance. Where else is the work of the individual so necessary and at the same time so completely lost as in this form of social expression? No room to play to the gallery here.

We all do not possess musical voices, yours truly is one of them. And some feel that they have no ability in music nor in any other art. But so often it proves to be only the discovery of media. Many a boy who despised the piano or violin will drive us frantic practising on a trombone or banjo. And a cartoonist is as entertaining as an elocutionist.

We can never get away from the cultural values in education so there is a definite challenge to discover and to develop individual tendencies and to exploit those factors that make one wanted by his fellows.

UNUS SOLUS.

In many parts of the country a gasoline price war has been on for considerable length of time. It has gotten to the point where special inducements are being made to stop at filling stations. Automotive Daily News tells us that on Woodward Avenue in Detroit, a certain filling station recently put up this sign: "2 pounds of sugar and 6 gallons gasoline for $1."

The amount of leisure given to the average citizen is a fair index to the stage of civilization reached by any people. So long as one has to spend twelve to fifteen hours every day to acquire enough for mere existence, there is positively no chance for progress. The ancient solution brought into existence the Sabbath and the aristocracy—a leisure class supported by the peasant. Grinding and thinking are mutually exclusive. And it does not matter whether that grind is on the farm, in the school or at the editors desk. The necessary accompaniment to creative thought is leisure.

Leisure but not idleness. That time must be worthily invested. One can readily place the old man as well as the youngster by the manner in which he spends his spare time. As the subconscious mind contributes to the mental life so leisure develops manhood.

It was a splendid idea when the Wednesday half holiday was effected. Naturally we think of summer as the holiday season, and unquestionably this freedom from the hot city store has not only sweetened temper but saved lives. Further it was an opportunity for friendship and play. This need was as keenly felt in the village as in the city. By co-operating no business was lost and even the buying public gained though sometimes it made one wrathful when he had his hand on the door knob of the store before he remembered it was Wednesday afternoon. But if it is good for summer, why not for winter? A little team play and nothing is to be lost and everything to be gained.

Our banks, we believe, have shorter open hours and more holidays than any other business institution. They do no less business nor afford less protection or accommodation. And while we do not advocate such short hours for all business houses yet the present hours could be shortened to the advantage of town and country. The store open on Saturday night is a custom not to be discouraged. And we may well keep open evenings during the rush of harvest or Christmas. But is there any reason why stores should not close Wednesday afternoon during January and February as well as July and August? Curling may or may not be as good as golf but it must at least run a close second. And graded roads, closed cars, heated garages and antifreeze makes the neighbor's dinner as good by winter as by summer.

The Accident

(The following vivid picture of a roadside tragedy written by a Western Canadian, whilst not based upon any particular incident, is a true-to-life sketch of the unnumbered tragedies which are taking place in Canada under our hopeless system of Government Sale of liquor.—Editor.)

"How did it happen? Well, they met head on. Rounding a curve. Going too fast I guess! A quarter of an hour, more or less, Was hardly worth a broken neck. He's gone."

"The grade too narrow? No the grade was wide. The other driver gave him half the road. And something extra for the wheel-marks showed. He swung his car well over to his side."

"Drunk? Oh, I wouldn't say that he was drunk—He had been drinking—Yes, it's very sad. A fine young man—the only son they had. The other crippled. Both cars are junk."

"You've seen the paper? Something left unsaid! And something, too, the preacher couldn't say. 'De mortuis nil nisi bonum,' eh? Why hurt his people's feelings, when he's dead?"

"And who's to blame? God knows! The Government? The Trade? The boy? His parents? You and I? We're in the business!—People are content To let it flourish.—Yeah, we voted dry."—G.E.C.

Osteomyelitis

Suffering, crippling and sometimes death make up the price we pay for neglect or delay in securing treatment for certain conditions. Early treatment is truly preventive in that it prevents the development of the more serious and sometimes fatal conditions.

It is in the early treatment of tuberculosis and cancer that we place our hope in dealing with cases of these diseases. Appendicitis continues to be a major cause of death because it is not brought under treatment early, or, worst of all, it is treated with a dose of castor oil.

Osteomyelitis is an acute infection which occurs in a bone, it develops quickly and is, each year, the cause of loss of life or of extensive injury because treatment is not secured at once. In a disease of this type, which develops so rapidly, the delay of even a few hours leads to serious or fatal consequences.

Pains in a child's arms or legs should always be regarded seriously. There is no such condition as "growing pains"; children do not have pains or aches just because they are growing.

When a child has pains in the extremities, that child should be examined in order to find out definitely and without delay what is the cause of the cause of the pain. Pain does not occur without a cause. It is the danger signal which nature uses to inform us that something is wrong.

Osteomyelitis is usually preceded by an injury which may be only slight. This injury apparently lowers the resistance of the affected area, and germs which are of the type which cause infection have their chance to gain a foothold. The germs multiply rapidly, first of all causing inflammation, then pus and finally destruction of tissues. Unless proper treatment is given promptly, the patient is simply overwhelmed with the poisons produced as a result of the activity of the germs.

The germs are carried to the part affected in the blood stream. They may come from any part of the body in which they have been lodged, such as a boil, an infected throat or an infected blister on the heel. The germs are there, and when the opportunity offers, they cause terrific damage if treatment does not intervene.

In most cases, the pain comes on suddenly and is severe. The most common location is near a joint of one of the long bones. The spot is tender and there is fever. It is at this time that treatment should start. Later on comes redness, swelling and all the usual signs and symptoms of infection with the serious results of having delayed treatment.

Beware of the chap who always agrees with you. Sooner or later he will have an axe to grind and want you to turn the grindstone.

(National Crop Improvement Service)

"The isolation of country life is becoming largely a myth. Any man who has an automobile, and every live farm family has one, will no longer feel lonely if he can any day in the year travel as many miles as his machine will make both winter and summer."

"Every community is entitled to passable roads at all times," says Mr. R. S. Rider, president Canadian Steel & Wire Co. "The road which is most satisfactory is undoubtedly built of reinforced concrete and one of its great features is that regardless of the weather, these roads can be kept open with the snow plough and the dreaded January thaw or spring breakup will lose their terrors."

"Every town and village ought to have a co-operative arrangement with the farmers to keep the roads open 365 days in the year. Being snow-bound is a relic of the past."

Braking With Engine Does Not Use More Gas

From the Graham plant comes the information that a car going down hill in gear, using the braking effect of the engine consumes no more gasoline than if the car were standing still with the engine running at its lowest idling speed.

To find this out, they ran an engine at three different idling speeds and measured the gasoline consumption. Then, with all adjustments the same they pulled the engine at a much faster r. p. m.—duplicating the effect of a car running down hill and braking with the engine. They found the gasoline consumption to be exactly the same—in spite of the fact that the number of intake strokes per minute was greatly increased. The reason is that the fuel consumption is in proportion to the throttle opening rather than to the speed of the engine.

Canadian oats lead the world for quality and are in great demand for seed in every civilized country, but oats generally receive little attention and are raised in a haphazard sort of way. Very few farmers put in seed plots, although there is no other crop which responds so readily to intelligent selection and treatment.

Careful experiments have proven conclusively that the formaldehyde treatment of the seed for smut frequently increases the yield more than would be naturally expected from simply replacing smutted heads with sound ones.

This is probably due to the fact that the grain is attacked by other seed-borne parasites which are as effectively checked as smut, adding to the general health of the grain.

Seed Grain Fundamentals.

1. Select the variety for your neighborhood best adapted to soil and climate. If it is decided to put in both an early and late oat, do not get them mixed. It will be fatal to both.
2. Fan and grade your seed until you have removed all shriveled and broken kernels, sticks, chaff and weed seeds.
3. Test your seeds for germination in a wet blotting paper and plant only strong-sprouting seed.
4. Treat your seed grain with formaldehyde to prevent smut and other diseases.
5. Put oats in early.

Two Fur Coats

IT was at Toronto Exhibition last year. A typical American farmer, a true Uncle Sam, even to the bit of spinach on his chin, strolled along the passage way scrutinizing the exhibits. He was a married man of some years standing, as evidenced by the fact that his wife, to whom he spoke frequently, strolled along a few feet in the rear.

Finally he stood quite still and gazed across the passage way. His eyes were fixed upon a moderately sized printed card, framed and supported by an easel which rested upon a table inside the railing.

The expression of his mouth said plainly, "Here's something good. It'll be a new one on neighbor Smart." He didn't move for some minutes. For a few moments after the arrival of the wife there was quiet, animated, but rather happy conversation, accompanied with glances and thumb pointing at the easel across the way. Then the pair, single file, proceeded to cross over.

The attendant who sat by the table upon which the easel rested was attentive and talkative.

"Well, brother, I'll bite. What's the joke?" said our American cousin.

"There is no joke," said the attendant. "If you can place in the hands of the Secretary of this organization at Regina on or before March 1st, 1932, the ten ears of corn which a competent committee of judges conclude are the best ten ears of corn in the world, we will pay you $800 in good Canadian cash—and you can take the corn back home with you."

The eyes of the pair shifted to the large painting at the rear of the exhibit. "Oh, I see, Mother," said he to Mrs. Sam, "this is a grain show."

They looked again at the easel. "Egad," he muttered, "that's $800 a cob—a bit fishy, isn't it?"

Then to the wife, "Say, Mother, what did I get at Chicago that time my corn got into the money class?"

She spoke now for the first time. "$20," she informed him.

"Pretty big prize, $800!"

"Gimme some of your literature," he requested. "You Canadians have put one over us for the present, but wait till 1932 before you crow too loud. Mother and I had planned to take a trip to Texas in '32 but we're coming to Regina and we're going to bring that corn along with us. $800 of good Canadian cash looks good to me. Two nice fur coats—one for mother and one for me—will help us to put on a bit of style befitting a visit from the 'World's Corn King' when we come back in 1932 to thank you personally for your generosity."

"Good-bye and good luck."

Mr. and Mrs. Sam crossed to the other side of the passage way and resumed their sight seeing where they left off a short time before.

The easel and the card now reposes on the attendant's desk in the office of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina. The offer, "$800 for ten ears of corn" still stands good and it is open to all the world.

Newspaper Advertising is Aid to Development

Declaring that the strategic use of newspaper advertising has proven to be one of the most effective means of developing business under the present difficult conditions, W. K. Kellogg, chairman of the board of the Kellogg Company of Battle Creek, Mich., leading manufacturers of cereal foods, states that his company expects to end the year in the strongest position in its history.

"This year has demonstrated some of the unusual virtues of newspaper advertising," said Mr. Kellogg. "We announced last fall our plans for a heavy advertising expenditure this year in which we planned to use newspapers somewhat as shock troops to concentrate our fire when and where needed. The mobility of this form of advertising has enabled us to meet the varying problems of unsettled conditions to excellent advantage. Right now we are planning new heavy drives for this fall, using a stronger concentration of space on one of our products than we have ever before used in newspapers."

"These new campaigns are the best answer I know to our opinion regarding sales possibilities at the present time."

A man catching a fish is not news unless the fish is an outsize, but a fish catching a man rates a big type head. This happened at Lake Minnewanka, near Banff, recently when an angler was pulled off the pier into the lake by the sudden strike of a monster trout. Constable James of Calgary put off in a boat and landed both fish and fisherman.

Six days, nine hours and eleven minutes was the time of the record run of the "Empress of Japan," 25,000-ton flagship of the Canadian Pacific fleet, on her last trip from Yokohama to Honolulu, while a double record was made when the same ship completed the voyage from Honolulu to Victoria in four days, nine hours and 16 minutes.

For the second time in the past three years, Canadian Pacific Railway police are all-Canada revolver champions. The railway's Ontario team defeated Royal Canadian Mounted Police of Lethbridge, in the finals for the trophy recently. The railway police scored 1410 out of a possible 1500 against the Mounties 1362 thus becoming Dominion Open Revolver Police Champions.

Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Premier of Nova Scotia, and two hundred of the province's leading citizens, gathered at Yarmouth June 16 for the opening of the Lakeside Inn, Canadian Pacific hotel. This hostelry is the third of a chain across Nova Scotia opened by the railway in the past few years, testifying to the faith in the tourist possibilities of the province held by the Canadian Pacific.

Support Home Industries As They Support You

The following reasons for purchasing at home were features in a campaign put on some time ago at Peterborough, Ont., by retailers and manufacturers to encourage Peterborough citizens to buy in their own town. What Peterborough has done can be followed with good advantage by practically every town and city in Canada.

Because our interests are here.

Because the community that is good enough for us to live in is good enough for us to buy in.

Because we believe in transacting business with our friends.

Because we want to see the goods we are buying.

Because we want to get what we buy when we pay for it.

Because some part of every dollar remains at home and helps work for the welfare of our home town.

Because the man we buy from helps to support our poor and needy, our schools, our churches and our homes.

Because when ill-luck, misfortune or bereavement comes, the man we buy from is here with his kindly expression of greeting, his word of cheer, and if needs be, his pocket book.

Now that the worlds series is over and some more baseball history has gone down in the archives of ball fans, we can start to speculate on football hockey, and curling.

If gold is as hard to find in the Fallen Timber district as trout are to catch in the creek of the same name, it is going to be slim picking for most of the sour doughs this winter.

Several of our boys left early in the week for Three Hills to harvest. With all the cry of unemployment throughout the province, the north district needs harvest help badly. Instead of sitting back crying, our boys have lost no time in doing up the work at home and finding employment in other districts. There is generally work for those who want it.

There is no short cut to public acceptance of your goods. You must advertise them forcefully, intelligently and truthfully.—Vancouver Board of Trade.

Mrs. N. Nissen returned from the Calgary General Hospital last Friday very much improved in health.

Taking advantage of the few remaining days of the trout season, L. F. Chrestenson of Arrowwood, Bert Sihtin and George Hughes of Calgary spent Thanksgiving day on the upper regions of the Elbow river, returning with their limit of cut throat and Rainbow trout.

Now is the time to make sure that all trees and shrubs are well soaked to reduce the risk of winter killing to a minimum. A few pails of water to thoroughly wet the earth around tree and shrub roots before freeze up often means carrying them through the winter.

This world that we are living in is mighty hard to beat, You get a thorn with every rose but ain't the roses sweet?

Most of the things that are put off until tomorrow should have been done yesterday.

The man who wastes his time doesn't seem to realize that he will need it all before he dies.

"They even get their wives from out-of-town," said a local man the other day, commenting on the buy-out-of-town habit. What's the matter girl's?

The average man is so busy trying to lay a strip of carpet for himself that he missed the glory of the skies overhead.

The hostess was pressing her guests to provide entertainment.

"Is there any instrument you can play," she asked.

"Not away from home," replied Mr. Jenkins.

"What do you play at home," she inquired.

"Secone fiddle," he replied solemnly.

Where Would You Go to Beat This?

On every hand these beautiful autumn days you hear this expression: "Ain't this weather grand?" And when we know the past record of the "Arrowwood Wheat Fields" it seems to us that it is well to let good enough alone.

Now that the harvest rush season is about over we will have more time to think about other things. Had you planned to surprise the wife next Christmas with a new Maytag washer. Now the New Maytag with its improved Multi-Motor with only four moving parts, and large soft balloon rubber rollers in its wringer makes it the best buy on the market to-day. We have them in two styles and prices to suit your needs.

These cool nights are a warning to put Anti-freeze in your car before something happens that would pay for several fillings of Anti-Freeze. Drive in and let us fill your car.

on too much fire water and wound up in twin beds in the hospital.

"How do you feel now?" a nurse asked one of them the next morning.

"Me all right," he said, "but Joe very sick. Joe, he blind. Last night five turkey buzzards with plug hats on, sit on foot of Joe's bed and Joe no can see 'em, Joe, his eyes very sick."
